What is daily bread?

According to Biblical Scholar, the Rev. Dr. Mark Vitalis Hoffman, the word which we usually translate as "daily" (epiousion) is a rare Greek word which appears first in the Gospels. Based on its stem roots, the following possible meanings have been suggested:

- daily, for the current day, for today (according to military rations, a daily ration of bread was one loaf)
- necessary for existence
- for the following day, for tomorrow
- future, is coming, next
- which pertains to, which belongs to
- supernatural

By supporting the Gettysburg Seminary Fund, you help supply the daily essentials necessary for the faithful well-being of the

By supporting the Gettysburg Seminary Fund, you help supply the daily essentials necessary for the faithful well-being of the people of God. In most ways one might translate "daily bread," through your gifts to the Gettysburg Seminary Fund, you become an answer to prayer! While perhaps not "supernatural," all that your gift accomplishes is truly superbly-bountiful. Your gift to the Gettysburg Seminary Fund strengthens the prayer life of the whole Church—today and for generations to come.

Teach us to pray

Gettysburg Seminary graduates are open to God's call wherever that may lead. You will find them serving as ministers in congregations ranging from the inner cities to the suburban, or small town settings. They may become military chaplains, mission developers, hospice counselors, campus ministers, teachers or leaders of social ministry agencies—across North America and around the world. Your gift to the Gettysburg Seminary Fund strengthens the prayer life of the whole Church!
